Beneficiary selection

1) The process followed and parameters considered for selecting the beneficiaries for each project activity as mentioned.

a) Farm based income generation

Ram Prasad Pradhan, Numal Baskota and Basudev Kutum are prominent social workers and in their initiative a people platform namely "Bramaputra Valley Gramya Sewa Samitee” covering Gopal jaroni , Thute Chapori, Tal Tali, and Dath Kala is established. With their active involvement along with the respective village head and Gram Panchayat President the beneficiaries were identified and selected based on following parameters.

- I. HH size: the larger family size is preferable over smaller family which also depends on HH dependency ratio.
- II. HH living condition: shelter type, cooking fuel, sanitation. Beneficiaries having Kutchha house using wooden fuel and having poor sanitation are given preference.
- III. HH wealth: income, ownership of shelter & livestock. Those having lower level source of income are given preference.
- IV. HH dependency ratio: no. of children under 18 or elder member. More the dependency is, more chances of the beneficiaries getting selected.
- V. Must possess agricultural land and livestock used for farming.
- VI. Must be a member of farmers group.

b) Weaving activity with SHGs

Ms. Sobha Devi who is working as Jibika Sokhi (Community Resource Person, C.R.P) under Assam State Rural Livelihood Mission (ASRLM) at Chaiduar Development block. She is looking after all the SHGs of Gopal Jaroni and Thute Chapori area. She is C.R.P of a village organization namely Bramaputra Village organization promoted by Buroi Cluster level Federation among the women led SHGs. Therefore we entrusted Ms Sobha Devi to assist us in identification and selection of beneficiaries following parameters as mentioned below.

- I. SHGs with its member who are traditionally skilled weavers are preferred.
- II. More than 50 % SHGs members belonging to ST who are traditional weaver are given preference.
- III. SHGs member with traditionally skilled marginalized economic weavers are preferred.

c) Bio-fencing with EDCs

There is only one Eco Development Club (EDC) where members are involved from all four villages which is selected.

Challenges faced so far in the implementation of the project.

Gopaljaroni and ThuteChapori is a small river island of Bramaputra river with katcha road and temporary bamboo bridge which is taken away by river water every monsoon when water level rises. The bridge is risky to cross with motor cycle, but we had to go often to meet beneficiaries, organize meetings. Now because of rise in river water level, the bridge is not working so it is one of the challenging for the communication during this season.
